WHEREAS: Colorado State University funds Resources for Disabled Students (RDS).
WHEREAS: RDS provides support and help for students who suffer from both permanent and temporary limitations and health conditions.
WHEREAS: Not every teacher places information about RDS in their syllabuses or mentions it in class.
WHEREAS: This deprives the students of Colorado State University of valuable information that could better their education and experience at Colorado State University.

THEREFORE BE IT HEREBY RESOLVED

That the ASCSU Senate recommends that all the teachers of all college classes offered by Colorado State University place information about RDS in in their syllabuses and/or mention RDS during a class.

THEREFORE BE IT HEREBY RESOLVED

That the ASCSU Senate recommends if an instructor knows the student is struggling with a health issue or disability then the instructor should refer the student to RDS.

THEREFORE BE IT HEREBY FURTHER RESOLVED

That a copy of this legislation be forwarded to Dr. Tony Frank, Colorado State University President; Dr. Blanche Hughes, Vice President for Student Affairs; Colorado State University's Faculty Council; and Rosemary Kreston, Director of Resources for Disabled Students.
